Year 6 English | One Event, Two Viewpoints

Learn and notice | Keep a consistent narrative viewpoint

Aussie Primary Academy | Writing Growth

Name: _____ Date: _____

Learning intention

I can retell one event through two viewpoints while preserving shared facts.

Learn from this example

Ava's viewpoint: I lifted my project from the table as the bell rang. The base tilted, and a cardboard wheel rolled under a chair. I thought Noah was laughing at me. I bent down quickly, hoping nobody had noticed.

Noah's viewpoint: I heard the bell and looked towards Ava's table. Her wheel rolled under a chair. I smiled because I had spotted it beside my shoe. When Ava crouched down, I held it out to her.

Writing detective

1. Name two facts shared by both versions.
2. What does Ava assume about Noah?
3. Which version explains Noah's smile, and why?

Notice and explain

Ava narrates: Noah was secretly delighted to help me.
Revision: Noah held out the wheel. Perhaps he was trying to help.
Which stays within what Ava can know at this moment?

Year 6 English | One Event, Two Viewpoints

Think and plan | Keep a consistent narrative viewpoint

Aussie Primary Academy | Writing Growth

Your writing task

Write two short first-person accounts of the same event for classmates. Label the narrators. Keep shared facts consistent but vary what each person notices and understands. Use extra paper if needed.

Shared event

Choose one event and list three facts both accounts must keep.

Narrator A

What can this person see, hear, know and assume?

Narrator B

What different information or motivation does this person have?

Two openings

Use first person in both accounts. Name each narrator above the text.

Check consistency

Same facts; different interpretation. How might a misunderstanding resolve?

Teaching sequence

Read and discuss the model, plan orally, then draft and revise. Split across sessions and adjust to the learner. Year 2 may write a shorter text or draw before drafting. Supply extra paper when needed. Models are examples, not scripts to memorise.

Answers and acceptable alternatives

The bell rings and the wheel rolls under a chair; Ava bends down. Ava assumes Noah laughs at her. Noah knows why he smiles because he narrates his own thought. Ava cannot know that thought until she learns it. Notice task: The revision reports an observable action and marks an inference as uncertain. Secret delight belongs to Noah's inner experience unless he shares it.

Support, challenge and coaching

Support: List See / Hear / Think separately for each narrator. Use the supplied scene if needed.
Challenge: Use a detail whose meaning changes between accounts without contradicting facts.
Ask: How could this narrator know that? Is it observed, learned or assumed?

Observe learning and check transfer

For each page 4 target skill, record Not yet / With support / Independently. Note adult prompting or scribing. Give one next step and let the child revise.
Later task: Two Views of a Missed Pass. Hide the model and check the same skill on a new task. Accept other responses that satisfy the criteria.

Curriculum scope

Supports selected aspects of AC9E6LY06: creating and editing texts appropriate to purpose. This pack focuses on keep a consistent narrative viewpoint. It does not cover the whole year-level curriculum.
