READING SUPPORT AND PHONICS

Phonics scope for the story: single-letter correspondences a, b, c (/k/), e, g, h, i, m, n, o, s, t; short a/e/i/o; CVC and VC blending. Capital S/I/A and full stops. Teach is with final s representing /z/. Pre-teach a as the article (often /uh/ in connected speech). No digraphs or consonant clusters in the story. The title, instructions and answer options are adult-supported; they are outside the controlled story.

NEXT STEP / TEACHER TIP

If blending is difficult, practise three-phoneme words orally, then reread one sentence. If secure, retell the story without looking.

COMMON MISCONCEPTION

Pictures help us discuss meaning, but students should use letters and sounds to identify words.
