Year 5 English | Choose Our Reading Books?

Learn and notice | Develop reasons and address a concern

Aussie Primary Academy | Writing Growth

Name: _____ Date: _____

Learning intention

I can develop relevant reasons with examples and respond fairly to a concern about my proposal.

Model: Choosing a Library Display Theme

Students should help choose the theme for one library display each term. A choice guided by the librarian could encourage participation while keeping the display suitable.

First, students could connect the display to interests they already have. For example, a class interested in inventions might suggest books about building, discoveries and fictional inventors. This gives students a reason to explore several kinds of books.

Some people may worry that only popular themes would be chosen. However, the librarian could offer three varied options and rotate themes across the year. Students would have a voice without limiting the range of books displayed.

With these conditions, shared theme choices could make the display inviting and varied.

Writing detective

1. What exactly does the writer propose?
2. How does the inventions example develop the reason?
3. What concern is addressed, and how does the response work?

Notice and explain

Claim: Choice always makes every student a better reader.
Revision: Guided choice could help students find books they want to read.
Which avoids an unsupported guarantee? Explain.

Think and plan | Develop reasons and address a concern

Aussie Primary Academy | Writing Growth

Your writing task

Write a persuasive text to your teacher: Should students choose their own reading books? Take a clear position, develop two reasons, address a concern and conclude. Separate ideas into purposeful paragraphs.

Position and audience

Should students choose their own reading books? Write to your teacher. Decide when choice applies.

Reason 1 and explanation

Explain how this reason supports your position.

Reason 2 and example

Use a different reason. Add a specific, realistic example.

Concern and fair response

What reasonable worry could someone have? Respond with an explanation or condition.

Conclusion

Return to the proposal you actually argued for, including any limits.

Teacher and parent guide | Answers and teaching support

Aussie Primary Academy | Writing Growth

Teaching sequence

Use two sessions: read/discuss/plan (about 20–25 minutes), then write/revise (about 20–30 minutes). Adjust to the learner. Rehearse orally before writing; supply extra paper if needed. Models are teaching examples, not scripts to memorise.

Answers and acceptable alternatives

Students help choose one display theme each term with librarian guidance. The example connects an interest to several book types, explaining why choice may encourage exploration. The concern is narrow popular themes; varied options and rotation aim to preserve variety.
Notice task: The revision uses a qualified claim. The original makes an absolute promise without evidence. A hypothetical example illustrates an idea but does not prove it happens for everyone.

Support, challenge and coaching

Support: Discuss free choice versus guided choice. Offer Reason / Explanation / Example planning labels.
Challenge: Explain when the concern is valid and how a practical condition reduces it. Do not invent research or statistics.
Ask: Does this example illustrate your reason? Have you answered the concern rather than dismissed it?

Record learning and check transfer

For each page 4 skill, record Not yet / With support / Independently. Give one specific next step and let the child make the change. Record adult prompting or scribing.
Later prompt: Should Students Help Choose a Class Read-Aloud?. Hide the model and check whether the target skill transfers. These are classroom practice criteria, not NAPLAN scores.

Curriculum and preparation scope

Supports selected aspects of AC9E5LY06: developing ideas, organising and linking paragraphs, precise vocabulary and text connectives. Guided skill practice for NAPLAN preparation; not an official test or score prediction.
