Name: _____

Date: _____

LEARNING INTENTION	identify and explain combinations of language and structural choices that create an author's style
KEY IDEA	Style is a recurring pattern of choices: sentence rhythm, viewpoint, imagery, dialogue, tone, structure and vocabulary. One isolated feature is not enough evidence.
WORKED MODEL	Short fragments, restrained dialogue and recurring cold imagery can create a tense, spare style. Analysis links several patterns to the reader's experience.

SUCCESS CRITERIA - I CAN

☐ notice recurring patterns ☐ cite evidence ☐ explain combined effect ☐ compare styles

A. NOTICE AND IDENTIFY

1. Match feature to possible effect: fragments; long cumulative sentences; colloquial dialogue; repeated image.

2. Which is stronger style evidence: one adjective or a repeated pattern across a passage? Explain.

3. Identify tone from these choices: precise technical nouns, measured claims and definitions.

B. APPLY AND EXPLAIN

4. Rewrite one event in a clipped, tense style using sentence length deliberately.

5. Rewrite it in a reflective style using imagery and longer sentences.

6. Compare both versions using evidence from rhythm, vocabulary and viewpoint.

C. INDEPENDENT FLUENCY - CHECK AND CREATE

7. Create a style fingerprint with four categories: sentences, vocabulary, imagery and narration.

8. Check that every claim names a pattern, gives evidence and explains an effect.

Aussie Primary Academy | Australian Curriculum v9.0 | Independent Application and Self-Review

Name: _____

Date: _____

D. APPLY THE SKILL IN CONTEXT

9. Text A uses quick dialogue and short paragraphs. Text B uses detailed inner thought and recurring sea imagery. Describe each style.

10. Explain how the styles position readers differently during the same conflict.

11. Decide which style better suits suspense and defend your decision while acknowledging an alternative.

E. REASON, EVALUATE AND TRANSFER

12. Imitate one described style in a six-sentence scene without copying content. Annotate four deliberate choices.

13. Explain the difference between analysing style and merely summarising what happened.

F. STUDENT REVIEW - PROVE YOUR UNDERSTANDING

[] I can identify an author's style through recurring, combined choices.

Accept equivalent responses when the student applies the targeted skill accurately and justifies the choice.

COMPLETE ANSWER KEY

1. Fragments may quicken pace; cumulative sentences may layer thought/detail; colloquial dialogue may create voice; recurring image may build motif/mood.
2. A repeated pattern, because individual style is established through consistent combinations of choices.
3. Formal, objective or authoritative, depending context.
- 4-6. Check genuinely contrasting rhythm, vocabulary/viewpoint and evidence-based comparison.
7. Fingerprint must cite multiple recurring features, not labels alone.
8. Each claim needs pattern + quotation/example + reader effect.
9. A may feel immediate and external; B reflective, internal and image-rich.
10. A places readers inside rapid exchange; B slows time and deepens interpretation.
11. Either answer accepted with evidence and acknowledgement of trade-off.
12. Annotation must identify four purposeful features that work together.
13. Summary recounts content; style analysis explains how patterned choices shape meaning/effect.

TEACHER CHECK AND NEXT STEP

[] Identifies the target feature accurately and cites evidence.

[] Applies the feature independently and explains its effect.

Next step: model one difficult item, complete one together, then repeat independently in a new context.

COMMON MISCONCEPTION / WATCH OUT

Style is not a single device or a judgement such as 'good writing'.

Require patterns across the text and explanation of how choices work together.

EXTENSION AND RE-TEACH

Re-teach: model one item aloud, complete one together, then ask the student to explain an independent correction.

Extension: transfer the skill to a short authentic text and justify two deliberate language choices with quoted evidence.
